WHEN "SELF-AWARENESS" DOESN'T LEAD TO CHANGE IN THERAPY
LIVE ONLINE VIA ZOOM

F. Diane Barth LCSW
November 8, 2026, 10:00am-12pm ET
Course Number: A-037 (2.0 contact hours)

Bibliography

Beck, A. T. (1976). Cognitive therapy and emotional disorders. International Universities Press.

Barth, F. D. (2015) Listening to Words, Hearing Feelings: Links Between Eating Disorders and Alexithymia. Clinical Social Work Journal, volume 44, pp. 38-46.

Barth, F.D. (2015) Alexithymia, Affect Regulation and Binge Drinking in College Students. Journal of College Student Psychotherapy, volume 29, issue 2, pp.132-146.

Charles, M. (2024) Somatization and Symbolization. American Journal of Psychoanalysis 84:57-78

Pizer, B. (2023) "Eva, Get the Goldfish Bowl": Affect and Intuition in the Analytic Relationship. Psychoanalytic Dialogues 33:603-618

Pizer, S. (2026) The Manifold Function of Singular Words. Psychoanalytic Dialogues 36:329-334

Şar, V. (2023) Dissociative Depression: A Psychodynamic View. Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy 37:381-428

Spagnolo, R. and Northoff, G. (2022) The Dynamic Self in Psychoanalysis: Neuroscientific Foundations and Clinical Cases, New York: Routledge Press, 2022